ICAN Techie Camp

AZ StRUT was excited to partner with ICAN in December to teach a group of 5th graders to tear down and rebuild a working computer, followed by the delivery and setup of a Linux-based laptop of their own! We received the following feedback from those in attendance:

Many of these students have very limited access to computers. As important as gaining a laptop is, these students gained something even more enduring - the confidence that they can do this, thereby expanding the range of "what's possible" in their minds. According to ICAN, "the word has already gotten out - ICAN has over 200 kids/day in our programs, and we're getting approached in the hallways with "When do I get to sign up for that computer class?!"

We live for this type of feedback! We are grateful for this opportunity and hope to return to ICAN for more Techie Camps!
