

ROBERT WHETSTINE

CREDIT ANALYST, TOYOTA FINANCIAL SERVICES

Robert Whetstine is a positive guy who's not afraid to dress up as the Grinch for ICAN's youth holiday party. He'll even bring his son, dressed as Buddy the Elf. Family is important to Robert, and he has a big one. He's married and has two teen sons, three rescue dogs, two cats, two tortoises, a snake and a hamster.

"My family inspires me, because any success I have had is a direct result of the amount of love and support they have always provided me," he says.

Robert is a member of The Henrys, ICAN's leadership development group that fundraises. And thanks to his efforts, Toyota Financial Services is a sponsor of its annual Thanksgiving dinner, which feeds 500 community members a free holiday meal.

Robert also volunteers for Together We Rise, The Boys & Girls Clubs of Guadalupe and UMOM. He coaches youth sports and enjoys giving back to the community by supporting local businesses.

His next goal is to share his love of books by reading to kids in character. The most rewarding part of what he does is knowing he made a child smile and feel important.—MG
