"I've always felt that the more time spent doing things outside my business (volunteering for ICAN or serving in leadership roles within AlphaGraphics Corporate), the more energetic and inspired I am when I return to my business," says Brandon Bagley.

Bagley opened AlphaGraphics because he loved the idea of helping other companies grow and establishing relationships.

He enjoys being a part of the community, and has been a financial contributor as well as on the board at ICAN: Positive Programs for Youth for the past 10 years. He is also involved with the Chandler Compadres, and a sponsor of the Chandler Education Foundation.

He launched an AlphaGives campaign, where he sent out a request for nonprofits to submit for grants, awarding about $10,000 total to six local organizations.

Bagley, who has been honored with many awards including Alpha Graphics' first-ever Community Impact Award and ICAN's Henry Salinas Society Hero Award, says, "I'd like to believe that my friends/clients would say that I'm always willing to help in any way that I can."
